

Name:

Creating a Nonfiction iMovie with Voiceovers

Topic: Habitats

You will select one habitat for which you will create an informational iMovie and create your own voiceover with background music. You will be responsible for researching your specific habitat, downloading or finding all necessary media, designing the entire movie from beginning to end, and writing and narrating the movie's script.

What habitat do you choose? Why did you choose this habitat?

What do you already know about this habitat?

What would be the most important topics regarding this habitat?

For each topic, what type of picture(s) would you like to find?

Name:

For some topics, what type of charts or graphs would you like to find or create?

For some topics, what type of special nonfiction text features do you want to include, e.g. fun facts, find out more, did you know, links to more information, etc.

What type of music would you like to have playing in the background? Why did you choose this type of music? How does it relate to your chosen habitat?

What kind of tone would you recommend for the voiceover? Why is this tone best for your book?

What else?
